Council will reconsider Bishop Street closing noise by-law

Meeting Monday night, St. Albert Town council dealt with reports on the Calgary Power Ltd. franchise, the 1968 Capital Program and the Public Works Committee report.

Eleven items of previously circulated correspondence were the next items on the agenda handled by the meeting. Three of these were from the Edmonton Regional Planning Commission covering the mobile home court study, the commission budget and a proposed rezoning application.

Roy Hart Retires As Air Cadet CO

ROY HART

Roy Hart retired as commanding officer of St. Albert Air Cadet Squadron Sept. 5.

Less than a week later the summer and winter tunics that he had lifted out of his clothes closet nearly every Thursday evening for the past 10 1/2 years had been returned to the quartermaster's stores.

"It wasn't quite so much fun any more," he told The Gazette. "And we old wartime fellows don't change with the times enough. The squadron needs someone who will so I thought I would let a younger man take over." So he turned it over to Marcel Bergevin, 29, a former district cadet.

Roy's only connection left with the cadets is that as a member of the St. Albert Lions Club, which sponsors the squadron, he is on its air cadet committee.

So, where do you find Roy Hart every Thursday night. At squadron headquarters in the community hall, that's where.

"I guess it's just a habit that's hard to break after 10 years," he says. "I don't stay around too long, though. I'm afraid that if I did I'd start giving orders. It would be hard to help if after so long."

Roy, who reached the rank of flying officer while servcussion by council. Mr. Wheatley does not think this is a good practice and suggested that the staff release to the press only that information which it feels is "suitable."

Mr. Wheatley added to make the information available to the reporter would be to recognize the Gazette as the "eighth member of council."

Councillor Gibbon reminded the meeting of a resolution on record that minutes of the public works and finance committee be made available to the press unless it was specifically stipulated by the chairmen that this not be done.

Development officer Mr. J. Roberts was asked to prepare a further report on Jasper Auto Parts. Commenting on a charge under the

Firemen inspecting homes in Grandin

Firemen will inspect homes in the Grandin area next week in conjunction with Fire Prevention Week, reports Chief Fred Tetarenko.

The chief requests that residents make the volunteers welcome as the sole purpose of the exercise is to help prevent fires in the home.

The department will hold open house from Oct. 6 to 12 and the volunteers have constructed a display of five common hazards that can be found in many homes.

The public is invited to come out and see the equipment that is used for its protection.

Chief Tetarenko reports that the department has answered more than 100 calls this year, most of them brush and grass in late spring and early summer when it was unseasonably dry.

With winter fast approaching, the chief gives this message: "With the time coming to store away our lawn mowers, camping equipment etc., and the turning up of thermostats, it also means the time is coming to have the heating appliances serviced, and do a general clean-up, doing away with accumulated odds and ends, thus eliminating potential fire hazards."

"When storing your lawn mowers, outboard motors, etc., remember it is against

Saturday was a proud day for the St. Albert Craft Guild, the Creative School Society and the many volunteers who gave so generously of their time and talents. Mayor Richard Fowler cut the ribbon and declared the spacious, brightly decorated St. Albert Arts Centre officially open.

Many volunteers spent a countless number of hours painting, laying tiles, hammering, scrubbing, planning and organizing. The end result is one of which all can be proud.

Inside the T-shaped building colors are vibrant, surroundings bright and functional. Ceiling beams are charcoal, accented by gayly colored doors and cupboards. Many colorful paintings decorate the walls and a number of artifacts are attractively displayed.

A small group of people, the driving force behind it all, were singled out and given special recognition for their untiring support. They are Parks and Recreation Superintendent Mr. Andre Gate, Mrs. J. Bakker, Mrs. J. Holgersen, Paul Garrick, and Charlie Bruce.

Attending the opening ceremonies were Mrs. R. Gowers Department of Youth, Recreation Branch; Mr. L. Graff Superintendent Arts and Crafts, Department of Cultural Development; Mr. B. Morton, Department of Cultural Development and Mr. R. White, assistant superintendent Arts and Crafts, Department of Cultural Development.

The St. Albert Arts Centre is the third of its kind to be completed in Alberta, the others are in Edson and Camrose. The complex consists of a lecture room, an arts room, a meeting room, a crafts room, a kiln room, a ceramics room with no less than 6 wheels and wash rooms. The St. Albert Arts Centre is located behind the Vital Grandin School in Salisbury Park.

St. Albert youth wins scholarship

A University of Alberta student from St. Albert, Anthony (Tony) E. C. Redpath, has been awarded a $1,600. undergraduate scholarship by Cominco Ltd.

Tony, who will begin third year studies in honors chemistry this year, will receive $800 per year for two years under the Cominco award. A second U of A student, Claude T. Herzberg of Edmonton, was awarded a similar scholarship for third and fourth year studies in honors geology.

Tony, 19, is a graduate of Paul Kane High School. He hopes to go into graduate studies and eventually teach and do research at a university.

Tony is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Redpath of 6 Greenwich Crescent. The Redpaths have lived in St.

Albert since 1962.

The undergraduate scholarships given by Cominco are part of a five-year, $300,000 aid to education program established in 1967. Twenty-four undergraduate scholarships are available each year to students in certain branches of engineering and science.

Meat market window broken

An eight-by-four foot $150. plate glass window in the front of Dave's Meat Market, 10 Perron Street, was smashed early Saturday morning.

"I've heard all sorts of stories," Dave told The Gazette. "Some say it was somebody using a fist; others say it was kicked out; some say a head hit it."

Dave doesn't really care.

The only thing that really annoys him is that he had to crawl out of bed at 2:30 in the morning and go down and board it up.

R C M P are investigating.

Miss Marie Wolniewicz, 7 Madonna Drive was honored recently on the occasion of her retirement. Miss Wolniewicz has taught for 46 years, 40 in St. Albert.

St. Albert has not been forgotten, and seems unlikely to be, by John L. Williams, 17, formerly of 1 Granite Ave. John, who moved to Llangefn, Anglesey, in North Wales, with his parents about two years ago, wrote the Gazette last week, enclosing a two pound note for a year's subscription.

"I'm anxiously awaiting the first issue," he wrote, adding that he is settling down pretty well, although he still prefers Canada.

John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Williams. Mrs. Williams (Barbara) worked ing with the RCAF from 1943 to 1945, reformed the squadron in 1956 with the help of George Lee and Cy Whitton.

He's proud of what they achieved, and proud of the boys who have gone through the squadron.

"The original purpose of the air cadet movement was to prepare boys for the air force during the war," Roy says. "We still provide them with a regular syllabus pertaining to flying, but the main purpose is to produce better citizens."

Roy likes to point out that five boys reached the rank of warrant officer, the highest a cadet can reach, in his squadron. He has seen four win flying scholarships and one win a glider scholarship. Six boys have taken the senior leaders course at Camp Borden and he has had one boy go to England on an exchange visit.

And he beams when he tells you how Ian McLellan, who now operates an airline out of Whitecourt, got his first taste of flying while taking advantage of a flying scholarship.

Roy just doesn't like to know how a youngster is doing as a cadet, but also how he is doing in school. "It helps me to tell just how hard we can push a boy," he says.

The squadron, with about 55 boys enrolled this year, has been down as low as 25 at times.

Roy credits the band with holding the squadron together in rough times. He formed it nine years ago because he thought a band "makes a squadron".

Russ Waite is the band instructor now, but there have been times, Roy says, when the youngsters have pretty well taught themselves.

Roy, an advertising salesman with The Edmonton Journal, his wife, Anita, son Bill, 19, and daughter Laurie 14, have lived at 20 Birch Drive for 12 years.

town unsightly premises by-law which resulted in a $50. fine to Jasper Auto Parts, Mr. Wheatley said that sum is probably 1/50 of the firm's daily intake and suggested a $50. maximum fine is not high enough.

Town council has not heard the last of the Bishop Street closing, yet. Councillor Lukay gave notice of his intent to have the matter reopened at the next meeting of council, Oct. 15. "I cannot see council change its stand on the request of 3 or 4 people," he said. Council had previously advertised its intention to close Bishop Street and gave first reading to a by-law to this effect. Several briefs voicing strong objection to this action were presented to council and council last week.

decided to drop the matter. Councillor Lukay favors closing the west side of Bishop between Balmoral and Churchill.

A motion that Bylaw 14/68 (the noise bylaw) be reintroduced, with an amendment to the section dealing with snow blowers was carried with Councillors Lukay and de Brujin opposing. Mr. Lukay said he cannot see the need for a bylaw in such detail. Mr. Wheatley, speaking in support of Mr. Gibbon's motion said it seemed "Incongruous" that council could get that far along with a bylaw and then have it defeated on 3rd reading.

Council went into committee shortly after 10 p.m., to meet with a representative of Calgary Power.

Investigating noise he spots house fire

When Vern Tompkins of 31 Grosvenor Blvd., heard the shattering of glass in the dark early hours of Monday morning, he immediately thought of prowlers.

Leaping out of bed to investigate, he noticed an orange glow in the yard behind him, the home of W. E. Love of 12 Gaylord Place.

"I thought they were having an outside fire," Mr. Tompkins said later, "then I guess I woke up. An outside fire at 3:30 in the morning?"

Their home was on fire. It was the last second he wasted. In pajamas and his bare feet, he dashed out the door and scrambled over the five-foot fence separating the two lots, then pounded on the Love's door.

His wife, meanwhile, was phoning the St. Albert volunteer fire department.

The Love family vacated the house and within minutes

23 firemen were on the scene confining the blaze to the garage, where it had started.

"I'm amazed at how fast they got there," Mrs. Love said. "I don't see how they could hop out of bed and get there so fast. There were firemen everywhere."

The fire started in the storage compartment of the Love's barbecue, presumably from a hot coal that dropped down after they had barbecued that evening. The heat from the steel sides of the barbecue had touched off a wicker basket and the flames quickly spread up the wall.

Mr. Love estimated the damage at $300 to the gar-

You see, Jenny just happened to score a goal to help defeat Allan's team 3-2 in an Atom Soccer League game Saturday morning.

This is how it happened: Allan's team, the Braeage and about $900 to the contents stored there.

Three of the Love's children, Gail, 18, Kenneth, 15, and Guy, 10, were taken in for the night by Mrs. Tom McKendry, 8 Gaylord Place. Janice, 13, spent the night with Mrs. Jean Clelland, 6 Gaylord Place.

There's no telling how far it would have got if Mr. Tompkins hadn't spotted it," Mrs. Love said. "We might not be here today."

Lecture attracts crowd

The family Enrichment Series which are being conducted at the Roman Catholic Parish Hall got off to a good start when approximately 200 persons heard the first of the six-lecture series last evening.

Dr. R. G. Arnot, psychiatrist, Alberta Hospital spoke on "Growth of Family Love."

The series is sponsored by the St. Albert Ministerial Association, St. Albert Women's Church groups and Edmonton Family Services. The lectures run Tuesday evenings and Reverend L. Musto said registrations will still be accepted from about 25 couples.

With no one near, the Rovers' goalie calmly bent down to scoop up the ball.

Enter Jenny.

Breaking from the sidelines, she cut in front of the goal and into the path of the ball. It struck her on the rear, changing directions and slipping past the startled goalie to come to rest in the goal.

"Foul, er, dog," cried the Braeside coach.

"All's fair in love and soccer," retorted the typically impassionate soccer official, allowing the goal to stand.

And Allan?

"Aw, I'm not mad. Anybody can make a mistake."

The Candidates Express Their Views

RAY GIBBON

I contend the provincial government should live up to its responsibilities! These are education and health.

A resolution has been forwarded to the Alberta Urban Municipal Association from the St. Albert Council on the reallocation of taxation for education purposes to remove this regressive tax entirely from the municipal tax field.

A second resolution has also been forwarded protesting the Health Regions Act to be passed in 1969. The proposed act gives the minister of health the right to levy up to two mills from all municipalities in Alberta to fund the act. It also gives each health region the right to supplementary requisition against every municipality within each region, with no limitation or proper right of appeal.

I have been the prime mover of these resolutions and I ask for your vote to continue to bring these, and like problems with their possible solutions to the attention of the provincial government.

What I am suggesting is that the election of public officials is no longer a popularity contest but the election of serious persons that will treat public monies as a trust.

The seriousness of the situation cannot be fully expressed. The officials today are elected for a three year period. They have the power to spend a large amount of money.

Due deliberation before voting is essential.

Unless a new administration can be established taxes are going to continue to rise at an unreasonable rate as they have in the past.

When I resigned from council I did so because I could not sit back with a clear conscience and watch public funds being spent on projects that could bring no possible return. I intended my resignation to serve notice to you, the public, that money was being spent in an unbusinesslike manner.

If elected mayor, I will continue to scrutinize all spending of public funds, conduct the business of the town in a businesslike manner, encourage new development, and guarantee that public business will be handled in public.

St. Albert soccer clubs beaten in challenge cup

St. Albert Bantam Soccer Club, minus Doug Ferguson, the top scorer in the game in Northern Alberta, lost 1 - 0 to Avonmore in the final of the Challenge Cup played in the Kinsmen Field House Sunday afternoon.

And the St. Albert Midget Soccer Club, with Doug Ferguson dropped a 2 - 1 squeaker to the Rab-Canadians Ferguson getting their only goal.

The season is not yet over for the St. Albert teams, however, for as city champions they have still to tackle teams from Calgary in the provincial finals in the Field House on Oct. 13.

The bantam game was a real tear-jerker for the St. Albertans who turned out to cheer the team on, as the loss of Ferguson created a sizeable crisis in the fact that it was surrounded by controversy.

INELIGIBLE

He was ruled ineligible by the league executive for having played six games in midget ranks. The Metropolitan Edmonton Youth Soccer Association has no rule covering this, but president John Gattens said there has always been a "gentleman's agreement" covering it.

He said it was just "that it was forgotten in this year's rule book."

The ineligibility ruling arose after a protest by Avonmore five days before the Cup final.

St. Albert officials Lloyd Hopkins and Don Hunt had explored several alternatives, boycott the playoff, give Avonmore the Cup and play an exhibition game using Ferguson, just march onto the field with Ferguson.

Then they turned it over to the boys.

KIDS' GAME

"It's the kids' game," they said. "We'll let them decide."

In a special meeting at

Bicycle race goes Sunday

The 50-mile St. Albert bicycle race postponed from Sept. 21 will be held this Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

Peter McCaffery, race organizer, said about 25 riders are expected from Edmonton, Calgary and Red Deer.

The race will start from Hopkins' home, the boys voted to play without Ferguson, the youth whose talented feet had led them to an undefeated season.

Ferguson was in agreement. Better to lose it on the field than in the committee room.

The St. Albert club, as expected, in a gristy display held its own on defence, but it had lost its offensive edge without Ferguson.

LATE GOAL

The Midget game also ended on a solemn note, the goal that sent St. Albert down to defeat coming with slightly more than a minute to play.

It al had taken the lead 1 - 0 on a goal by Perri Carmello but Ferguson tied it minutes later, connecting from 15 feet out. Both teams seemed to retreat into their shells then and there were few good chances to score until it managed to capitalize on a free kick that resulted in a mad scramble in front of the net and the short kick that spelled the end for St. Albert left on Grosvenor to Grenfell Avenue, past the swimming pool, left again on Grosvenor to swing back to Sir Winston Churchill Ave. There will be 40 laps.

Letter to the Editor

To: The Residents of the Town of Morinville

As a parent of non-resident students in the Thibault school district #35, I would like to clarify some of the many rumors which have been circulated recently, and which are incorrect.

The non-resident students who are attending the Thibault School are not costing extra, nor are they the reason for high taxes. Any school that educates non-resident students receives the foundation grant. Thibault school district receives for its non-resident students approximately $35,000.

With the non-resident students the Thibault teacher-pupil ratio are between 20 and 25 per classroom, without the non-resident students the classrooms would be reduced by 7 students, and the teacher-pupil ratio would be between 15 to 20. The non-resident stu-

You see that the municipal mill rate and not the school mill rate is the high one in Morinville.

Some ratepayers are concerned that the busing is going to increase their mill rate, well the foundation program covers the transportation of all students who reside more than 1 1/2 miles from school.

Now do people of Morinville honestly not want the non-resident students in their school, if this is the case you must not want our students are keeping your secondary school as a sound economic unit, without the economic unit, without them Thibault would have to close its high school. IS THIS WHAT THE PEOPLE OF MORINVILLE WANT?

Also due to these non-resident students Thibault can offer bilingual education which is the envy of all communities in Alberta.

The school mill rate for Thibault School district has been low for many years, yet we in Sturgeon have been paying high unapproved costs and not receiving any extra educational benefits for it.

Why don't you the ratepayers of Morinville compare your municipal rate with other surrounding municipalities and just find out where the high taxes come from. As a ratepayer in the Town of Morinville and Sturgeon let me give you some figures.

support and dollars that are spent for hardware, groceries, fuel - gasoline, feeds, fertilizer, insurance, drugs, clothing, church, banking, community projects, our machinery buying, repairs, and we certainly can sell our produce elsewhere. Morinville is surrounded by an agricultural area and therefore needs the support of the farmers who are the parents of non-resident students.

Sturgeon residents ask for road improvements

Conrad Workun, who farms seven miles west of Redwater on highway 28, accepts the keys from John Kureluk, Cockshutt territory manager, to the spanking new 1850 series tractor he won as the holder of the lucky ticket in a draw held as an adjunct to Morinville Frontier Daze.

Company criticizes fire-fighter service

The secretary-treasurer informed Sturgeon council meeting that the manager of Swift Canadian Company Turkey farm had complained of the services received from the municipality during the bush fire on May 2 in the vicinity of the Company's farm.

He refused to pay the $100. bill received from this office for fire protection services received. He was informed that the municipality had paid over $1,000 for the two fire truck units protecting the company's building but only charged $100 to the Company.

Council declared it would not cancel the $100 invoice. The farm is nine miles east and four miles north of Legal.

Council will apply to the fire commissioner's office to have this entire municipality declared a fire protection area in order that insurance rates in this area be reduced accordingly to the insurance policies.

Gravelling contracts for 10 1/2 miles were awarded to Martinuk Brothers Construction, trucking at MD rates plus .05 per yard for loading. Unity Construction contracted for eight miles of road at $1.25 per yard for gravel plus MD rates for trucking.

Candidates must put up deposits

Nominations for councilors for Divisions 2, 6 and 7 of the Municipal District of Sturgeon will be accepted from 10 a.m. to 12 noon in the council chambers of the municipal office at Morinville on Nov. 1.

Every nomination must be accompanied by a cash deposit of $25. under the terms of a bylaw passed at a regular meeting of council Sept. 13.

Deputy returning officers in Division 2 will be Donald Harrold, working out of the polling station in the Namao Community Hall, and Harry Cresswell, working out of the polling station in his own residence.

In Division 6, deputy returning officers and their polling stations are: A. Jenkins, Bon Accord Community Hall; Art Hebert, Morinville Legion Hall; Paul Montpetit, Legal Recreation Centre.

In Division 7, deputy returning officers and their polling stations are: Bob McEwen, Gibbons Legion Hall; Art McCue, Bon Accord Community Hall; Allan Woywitka, Fedorah Community Hall.

Mr. Montpetit and Mr. McCue will also double as enumerators in their respective divisions. Mrs. John Crozier will be the enumerator in Division 2.

Council agreed to the following remunerations for services rendered:

Returning officers -- $20 per diem plus 20¢ per mile for mileage.

Deputy returning officers $20 per diem plus 20¢ per mile.

Enumerators -- $15. per diem plus 12¢ per mile.

Poll clerks -- $15. per diem plus 12¢ per mile.

William Melenychuk, who sold him the winning ticket, accepts a $500. cheque from Frontier Daze chairman Harry White. Profits from the draw will be used to finance the water and sewer project at the recreation grounds, which was started Sunday by a group of volunteers. In the photo from left are: George Vranas, local Cockshutt dealer; Mrs. Anne Maslak, Mrs. Anne Kryskow, Frontier Daze directors: Mr. Kureluk, Mr. Workun, Mr. White, Mr. Melenychuk, and Bruce Thom, Frontier Daze treasurer.

Gibbons Couple married 50 years

An open house was held at the Legion Hut at Gibbons Sept. 22 to honor Mr. and Mrs. John MacQuest on their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. MacQuest were married in Newport, Monmouthshire, England, on Sept. 19, 1918. They later moved to Canada, taking a homestead at Fort Assiniboine in 1930.

Mr. and Mrs. MacQuest moved to the Gibbons area in 1934, living in a covered wagon for their first six months there. They built their own home in Gibbons village in 1938. Mr. MacQuest did shoe repair and saddlery for 25 years. He was the first secretary treasurer of the village, holding the position for seven years.

Murray LeGate was master of ceremonies for the open house. Keith Everitt, MLA brought greetings from Premier Manning and Lt. Gov. J. Grant MacEwan.

Seated at the head table with Mr. and Mrs. MacQuest were Mrs. J. W. (Pat) Briggs, their God child, Mrs. Hayes and Mr. and Mrs. T. Chandler.

The couple received many gifts and a purse from their friends.

A delegation consisting of Messrs. Potter, Hodgins, Jeffery, Bowman and Litzenberger attended Sturgeon council meeting and submitted a petition signed by 32 property owners and residents of the Sunnyside district requesting council to consider improving the road conditions in said area.

Mr. Potter was the spokesman for the delegation and stated the people of the Sunnyside area are most concerned with the lack of gravel on roads and poor maintenance with the grader.

After hearing the submission, council assured the delegation that the public works committee is prepared to meet with members of the delegation and inspect this afternoon the roads in the area above mentioned.

Letter from L. M. Diprose for the Harrold Subdivision residents, was read to council re. the poor conditions of the roads, lack of gravel and grader maintenance.

The secretary treasurer was instructed to inform Mr. Diprose that the roads in the subdivision are to be re-gravelled this fall.

A letter from Z. Zabelski and T. Chatters was read requesting that the roads in the Sturgeon Crest subdivision be re-gravelled and better maintained with the grader.

The secretary treasurer was instructed to inform the parties concerned that the roads will be regraded so as to bring them back to proper conditions but said roads won't be re-gravelled this year.

Councillors Rye, Walker and Van De Walle were appointed to a committee empowered to purchase land for road-widening purposes on the correction line road east of highway 37.

Morinville annexation hearing set

The Local Authorities Board will hold a public meeting in Morinville Thursday to hear arguments for and against Morinville's bid to annex about 200 acres of the County of Sturgeon.

Morinville, claiming it is short of land for commercial, industrial and residential expansion, wants to push its western border to highway and also extend its southern border.

The hearing will start at 10 a.m. in the Legion Hall.

Morinville councillor resigns

Morinville council accepted with regret the resignation of Albert Ouellette at a special meeting recently.

The meeting had been called to discuss sidewalk bids and bids on stucco for the arena and the reroofing of it.

Council rejected the only bid on the sidewalk and ditching program, that of Andy's Excavating and Hauling.

Then it decided that the sidewalk and drainage project under the department of highways street assistance program be undertaken on an hourly basis at going government rates.

Andy's Excavating was given the job.

The bid of John Viard of $3,820. for stuccoing the arena was accepted, subject to negotiations for the deletion of approximately 15 by 114 feet on the west side.

Thibault Information meeting set

The board of trustees of the Thibault Roman Catholic Public School District No. 35 will hold a public information meeting at 8 p.m. Oct. 9 in the Georges Vanier library.

The purpose of this meeting will be: to explain the foundation program; to explain Thibault financing; to explain Morinville taxes - their sources and expenditures; to answer questions about the purchase and use of the convent; to answer questions about school business; and to answer questions about school administration.

All trustees feel such a meeting is necessary to "clear the air" and to prevent misinformation and rumors from being spread.

Frosh initiated at Legal high

LEGAL - Sept. 27 was a day that will not soon be forgotten by the Grade 12's and new Vimy students of Legal School. Some 40 students were the victims of their seniors all day long due to initiation.

In the evening, Kangaroo Court was held in the school gymnasium with everyone welcome. The president of the students' union, Laurent Coulombe, opened the initiation ceremonies by introducing the judges. These were the Right Honourable Carmen Prefontaine, Norman Douziech and Irene Theberge.

Then, bailiff Norm Rivard got things rolling. Many characters, such as Captain Nice, Bonnie & Clyde, Sherlock Holmes, Phyllis Diller, Walt Johnson and Cupid, were introduced to the audience, accused and convicted.

The judges were in no way lenient with their sentences and the crowd was humored by many of the punishments which were given.

All the students were very good sports and they all took

It's easy to handle and turns in a smaller radius than last year. This is a luxury size Ford at a very popular Ford price.

•Master farm family named

The Arthur Arrison family of Bassano has been named the only winner of the Alberta Master Farm Family Award for 1968, it has been announced by Hon. Henry A. Ruse, Alberta Minister of Agriculture.

The Arrison family, Arthur, wife Helen, daughter Gail and son Wayne, has achieved a harmonious balance among the four factors that bring success in farming and farm living: a spacious, comfortable home and neat farmstead; the use of advanced farming practices as a matter of routine; good business management; and full participation in family and community life.

The Arrison farm career began in the '30s when Arthur, his mother and step-father purchased ten sections of land from the CPR for $250. In spite of a difficult start, the Arrisons persevered and prospered. Today, the family owns 5,726 acres and rents another 1,280. Of the total, 4,200 acres are cultivated, usually half in crop and half in fallow. Although grain is the main source of income, the Arrison's beef herd of 122 cows and five bulls produced 120 calves this year.

The success the Arrisons have made of their farming operation is partly due to careful, detailed and recorded planning. A farm budget book contains monthly records of farm operations, color-keyed maps of crop areas, and the returns from each enterprise, allowing analysis of its contribution to the whole.

Family activities in community affairs bring great credit to the Arrisons. Father, daughter and son all participated in 4-H. Art Arrison was a club leader for five years, Gail and Wayne were members of the local beef club for eight.

Family activities in community affairs bring great credit to the Arrisons. Father, daughter and son all participated in 4-H. Art Arrison was a club leader for five years, Gail and Wayne were members of the local beef club for eight.

Gail has a record of triumphs, having shown three champions and a reserve champion at the Bassano Beef Club competitions.

Together, the Arrisons have held over 100 offices and awards in local activities.

Mr. Arrison's record includes presidencies of the local board of trade, of the farmers' union local and of the local fire protective association, as well as 13 years as wheat pool delegate. Mrs. Arrison has been a member of the Order of the Eastern Star and was active in Red Cross Work. Wayne was president of the students' union in high school and a member of the Eastern Irrigation District teen council and president of the Agricultural Economics Club in university. Gail (now Mrs. A. Beauregard) was secretary of the 4-H club. Now attending Mount Royal College in Calgary, she still maintains a strong interest in farm and family affairs.

All of these qualities contribute to the family strength

Once again Fire Prevention Week presents a challenge to individuals to examine their responsibilities in preventing fires. The Royal Proclamation makes it very clear that fire waste is a serious drain on our national economy.

Fire Prevention Week gives fire departments and all supporting agencies a first class opportunity to make a special contribution to the fire safety of their community. The presentation of these activities of improving fire safety depends to a great deal upon the spoken and printed word and without the news media, a program such as this could never be launched.

The Fire Prevention Week I wish to personally thank all radio stations, newspapers and T.V. stations for their support of this program.

Exterminate the Warble Fly

Dr. M. A. Khan, Entomologist from the Canada Department of Agriculture Research station at Lethbridge, urges farmers to treat their cattle with insecticides to exterminate the Warble Fly.

Damage to the carcass and hide of an animal infested with cattle grubs, the larvae stages of the warble fly, represents only a part of the loss caused to the cattle industry.

Financial loss from gadding, or stampeding by cattle trying to escape the warble fly is difficult to estimate. They lose weight, suffer injuries, break fences, and fail to make the best use of pastures, which are their cheapest available source of feed. Cattle grubs also infest other species of animals particularly horses, and occasionally humans. In horses, the warbles usually appear in the saddle area thus preventing the use of the horse for riding.

Cattle grubs can be controlled easily. Three insecticides, Co-Ral, Nevugon and Ruelene are effective as spray or pour-on application. Either of these kill the cattle grubs before they can form warbles on the backs of cattle. Treatment applied for systemic control of cattle grubs also effectively controls cattle lice. For combined control of cattle grubs and cattle lice, sprays are preferable to pour-on applications.

These insecticides should be applied in late summer or early fall.

Unless community efforts are made to eradicate the warble fly, these systemic insecticides have to be applied year after year. This requires first, the extermination of the pest from one or more small areas, followed by an increase in the size and number of warble free areas until they cover the entire province and ultimately the entire country. The warble fly can be exterminated from a given area after three annual treatments as was demonstrated in the Forestburg district.

The extermination of cattle grubs in Alberta has already begun. Several counties have shown interest in the extermination of cattle grubs and it is hoped that the entire province will soon participate in the project.

Keep Mothballs from Children

Moth balls -- candy? Maybe not to you, but to some children they appear to be just that in spite of their odor and taste. When winter clothes are taken out of storage, special care should be taken that young children don't find moth balls and eat them. If eaten or licked, certain types of moth balls can cause illness.

Many moth balls are made from naphthalene, and there has been an increase in poisoning in children and babies due to this according to reports from doctors and Poison Control Centres. In extreme instances naphthalene poisoning has caused death. (Some children seem less susceptible than others. A number who have eaten moth balls, did not become ill).

Parents are urged to take precautions to keep moth balls out of children's reach. Diapers or baby under-clothing should not be stored in naphthalene moth balls as there is a possibility that the naphthalene will be absorbed through the baby's skin.

Naphthalene poisoning can cause abdominal pain, headache, nausea and fever. Call your doctor if your child has swallowed moth balls.

Some moth balls are made from paradichlorobenzene, which is not as toxic as naphthalene. Save the label on the box so that in an emergency you'll know what your child has swallowed.

Soil Sampling Time

More fertilizer is being applied than ever before, and in order to determine the types of fertilizer to purchase and the rate at which they should be used, farmers are advised to take soil samples for testing.

The following are problem areas which could affect the accuracy of a soil analysis:

- 1) Poor sampling.
- 2) Improper drying. Samples should be air dried at room temperature.
- 3) Samples left at room temperature for an extended period after they have dried out could build up nitrogen level.
- 4) Allowing a cat to use the dirt will also build up the nitrogen level.
- 5) Mixing containers - Labels on each will eliminate the risk of mixing samples from different levels of soil.

Variety is the Spice of Lunches

Sandwiches, the mainstay of most lunches need not be dull. A multitude of variations are possible.

THE BREAD - Instead of plain white bread try whole wheat, rye, pumpernickle, fancy breads (banana, cheese, date nut, fruit, oatmeal, raisin), rolls, muffins or tea biscuits.

THE BUTTER - To make a savory butter spread, add any of the following to soft butter and mix well: honey with orange or lemon juice; molasses; spices (cinnamon or nutmeg); herbs (thyme, basil or tarragon); cheese (cheddar, blue or parmesan); catsup or chili sauce; chutney; horseradish, finely crumbled bacon, devilled ham.

THE FILLING - Generally we rely on our own ingenuity rather than specific recipes.

HINTS

- 1) Taste as you go.
- 2) To moisten the filling, choose whatever will complement the flavor. You might try: salad dressing, mayonnaise; milk, cream; catsup, chili sauce; or fruit juice.
- 3) Add pep to flat-tasting fillings - salt and pepper; lemon juice or vinegar; pepper sauce; Worcestershire sauce; prepared or dry mustard; chopped pickles or olives; horseradish.
- 4) Include something crisp or crunchy; lettuce; cucumber; pickle; nuts; celery; green pepper; carrot or cabbage.
- 5) Make use of spices and herbs: basil with tomatoes; curry or savory with chicken; oregano with pork; or cayenne with egg.
- 6) Slice meat very thin and use several thin slices instead of one thick one for each sandwich.

THE GARNISH - A garnish adds color, tang or texture contrast. Pickles and spiced peaches, apricots, apples or crabapples add a tangy touch.

Celery (curls, sticks or stuffed), turnip sticks, cucumber, apple (cubes, balls or rings), nuts and cauliflowerettes are crunchy.

Green pepper, olives, carrot, prunes, dates and raisins add color.

FREEZING SANDWICHES - Most sandwiches can be frozen. Avoid eggs (become tough and dry), lettuce, celery, tomatoes, cucumbers (lose crispness), fruit jelly (soaks into bread during thawing), and mayonnaise (separates).

Waxed paper is not satisfactory for freezing sandwiches. Use moisture-vapor-proof freezing materials. For individual lunches, small plastic bags are handy. Each should be marked with name of filling and date of freezing.

Sandwiches may be put into the lunch box while still frozen. They will be thawed, but cool and fresh at noon.

The publications "The Art of Making Sandwiches" and "Looking Forward to Lunch" offer helpful filling ideas and are available at the Extension Office, Department of Agriculture, Morinville.

fell from Red Deer south to the U.S. border last week, flattening standing crops.

Frost was general in the central and northern areas and temperature readings of 25 degrees were not uncommon. Yield and grade losses are expected to be severe and harvesting in most districts will be further delayed.

As the Alberta Department of Agriculture puts it "The weather is the big question mark to farmers now: if it stays favorable for the next few weeks, near average yields but lower-than-average grades can be expected, but with unfavorable weather, the situation could be disastrous."

The Alberta Wheat Pool reports that provincially 20 percent of the wheat has been threshed. 13 percent of the oats, 26 percent of the barley 78 percent of the rye and only 3 percent and 6 percent of the flaxseed and rapeseed respectively.

Our agents report that very little swathing was done in Saskatchewan this week and practically no combining on account of province-wide rains that were locally very heavy saturating swaths and causing further grade deterioration as a result of sprouting mildew and weight loss.

There has been no harvesting of flax yet but yields are only expected to be eight to 10 bushels per acre; however, yields and grades of rapeseed and mustard are good from fields harvested to date but some of the original seeding was plowed down earlier. Final outturns could be a lot less than the.

first Dominion Bureau of Statistics' estimate of 4.3 million bushels of flax and 9.3 million rapeseed.

According to the Manitoba department of agriculture, good progress was made in harvesting of crops in the western districts but further rains have delayed operations in the Red River Valley and Interlake areas. The Valley remains waterlogged and crop losses are expected to be extensive, especially from head or straw breakage in barley fields; other grains are standing up better but deterioration becomes more evident as the wet period is extended.

On the basis of early returns, yields are holding up well with wheat running 25 to 30 bushels per acre, oats 50 to 55 bushels and flax 10 to 14 bushels. However, the majority of wheat samples are grading 4 northern and lower. Storage is another problem and a lot of grain has been piled on the ground in the southwest and southcentral districts.

There has been a tremendous movement of grain out of the Lakehead terminals since the strike was settled and to date 21,143,000 bushels of wheat, 1,833,000 oats and 2,249,000 barley have been loaded out for Canadian ports. 893,000 bushels of wheat, 546,000 barley and 40,000 flax were loaded on salties for direct shipment overseas and 462,000 bushels of malting barley was shipped to Milwaukee.

Car unloads are averaging better than 900 a day and the railways are making every effort to get them back to country points.

Two experiments were performed this year in conjunction with chemists from the Desert Research Institute at the University of Nevada. Small amounts of silver iodide and iodine hydroxide were released from an aircraft into the updraft area of two storms. Rain samples were collected downwind between 30 and 90 minutes later. The amount of these chemicals will be determined in each sample. The analysis of these experiments should give further insight into the rain forming process in the clouds.

All of this scientific data would lose much of its value unless full details were available on where it falls. This is where the Alberta farmers play an extremely important role in the project. Some 25,000 farmers in the main study area, and an additional 10,000 in the area south of Calgary, provide data on where, when and how much hail falls.

These reports are sent in on special report cards, or obtained through telephone surveys conducted by Hail Studies staff. Over the past 12 years, about 35,000 hail reports have been received. These have all been placed on punch cards and are processed by the electronic computer. As a result more is now known about the climatology of hail in central Alberta than anywhere else in the world.

It is thus possible to compare the 1968 hail season with the past eleven years. During the past summer hail occurred somewhere in central Alberta on a total of 70 days, a little more often than normal. However the total number of reports sent in was less than half of normal, indicating limited areal extent of the halffalls. In addition very few farmers reported large hail and there was a large amount of soft hail. All of these factors combined to give much less hail damage this year than usual. An interesting feature was the almost complete lack of significant hail activity in the normally high risk area northwest of Red Deer.

Collection of all these data during the summer is only the beginning. During the coming winter months meteorologists at the Research

Council of Alberta and McGill University, as well as at the other co-operating agencies, will carry out the task of analysing the large amount of information collected.

Alberta hail study summary

The Alberta Hail Studies project has just completed by far the largest and most ambitious field observation program in its 12 year history. A total of 24 scientists six technicians and 20 assistants were involved during the summer.

Even though the hail activity in Alberta was well below normal this year, a tremendous amount of valuable data was obtained on all aspects of hailstorms.

From this base one of the best equipped weather radar systems in the world scans out to a range of 90 miles. The radar is specifically designed to study hailstorms and give a detailed picture of their internal structure. Simultaneous time-lapse stereo cloud photography gives a record of the external development and appearance of the clouds.

As the echoes are tracked on the radar, mobile units are directed by radio into the storm vicinity. Two units are equipped to measure rain and hail fall rates and collect precipitation samples for later laboratory study. From these and other fixed stations, several hundred rain and hail samples were collected and will be studied for the presence of freezing nuclei, sulphate and silver. Other mobile units released and tracked weather balloons to measure the wind flow around and into the

WINTER FAMILY SWIMMING

There are two places open for families wishing to participate in the family recreational swimming sessions which are being arranged by Mrs. A. Kehoe. These sessions will take place at the West End 'Y' on Sunday evenings from 5:30 - 6:30 p.m. If interested, phone Mrs. Kehoe at 599-7440 immediately, otherwise you might be disappointed.

Y M C A

The 'Y' would like to thank those who volunteered as swimming instructors for the Saturday afternoon sessions.

TENNIS

The final event of a very successful tennis season will be the Junior Windup Tournament which will be held next Sunday, Oct. 6 at 11 a.m. Juniors who have entered are reminded to check their draw times with Bernice Parsons at 599-3803. Following the tournament there will be free hot dogs and pop for all participants.

BOYS' SOCCER

St. Albert Atom League: The results of last Saturday's games are as follows: Braeside Rovers 2, Sturgeon Albion 3; Mission Saints 2, Churchill Chargers 0; Grandin Rangers 3, Grosvenor Lions 4; Legion Lancers 2, Grandin United 0. The present standings in the league are: Grandin Rangers 17 points, Grandin United 15, Braeside Rovers 11, Legion Lancers 11, Grosvenor Lions 9, Mission Saints 8, Churchill Chargers 6, Sturgeon Albion 4.

Next Saturday the semi-finals will be played in Grosvenor Park. Games are scheduled to start at 9 a.m. and 10:30 a.m., and parents are urged to come out and give these youngsters their support. They play hard and deserve encouragement.

The Cup for which they are playing was very kindly donated by Mr. Jim Byrne of Grandin Shoppers Park and many thanks are due to him for all the help he gives the cause of soccer in St. Albert.

FIGURE SKATING

The figure skating season will soon be here and Mrs. Chiesa will once again be the instructor. Last year the figure skating club had a very successful year, culminating in the wonderful Ice Carnival at Braeside Rink. Pre-register by phoning the department at 599-6601.

Y W C A

There seem to be quite a few ladies interested in a day-time Keep-fit class. If there are enough registrations, one may be arranged by the YWCA. Phone the department of parks and recreation at 599-6601 if you are interested.

As previously announced, the 'Y' Neighbors group will start on Wednesday, Oct. 23 in the United Church. More details will be announced later.

MEN'S SOCCER

The St. Albert team will be playing a friendly game next Sunday at Paul Kane grounds at 2 p.m. This could be your last chance to see the local boys in action this year so come out and support them.

The team has had a very successful first season and so great is their enthusiasm that they intend continuing training during the winter. Training sessions will be held each Friday evening in Sir George Simpson Junior High School from 7:30 - 9:30 p.m., and anyone is welcome to come along and have a work out. There is no charge. Reminder - running shoes must be worn.

BASEBALL

The baseball season will be officially closed with a Windup Father and Son Banquet which will be held next Sunday, Oct. 6 at 4 p.m. in the Club Mocombo.

Bryan Hall from CJCA will M.C., the proceedings and Ralph Warrington from CHED radio will be the guest speaker. Also at the head table will be the Commissioner of Little League Baseball for Alberta, Ron Hayter who will present the Trophy; George Lee, president of the Knights of Columbus; Rod Thronson, president of the Lions Club and Rock Holman president of the St. Albert Little Canadian League in St. Albert. Grace will be said by Rev. L. Musto. The umpires and coaches who did such a fine job during the summer will be there and a good turnout of fathers and sons is expected.

Tickets are available from the coaches: Adults $1.50 and Boys $1.00.

ARTS CENTRE

Fathers and husbands unite! Help is urgently wanted at the Arts Centre to complete the building which was officially declared open last Saturday but is still not quite finished. Go up any evening. There'll be work to do and someone there to tell you how to do it. But please go - don't leave it to the dedicated few who have been working extremely hard for weeks and who now need your help desperately.

CRAFT GUILD PROGRAM

The classes in the Arts Centre started on Tuesday and all participants are asked for their patience and forbearance for this, the first week of operation. It is a wonderful building and visitors from out of town have been most impressed by it and full of admiration for it and the community spirit it represents. But it is not quite finished and conditions are perhaps not as they should be. If, however, enough volunteer help is forthcoming there should be no problems next week. (See plea above)

There are still one or two openings in the Teen Ceramics class on Wednesday evenings and also in the Adult Ceramics class on Wednesday mornings from 9:30 to 11:30. The Copper Enamelling classes have a few vacancies still and so have the evening beginners and advanced dressmaking classes which are being held in the clubhouse. Puppetry and Marionettes is a fascinating children's class which has still a few openings. For information please phone 599-6601.
